MESSAGE

It is with immense pleasure that I welcome you to the West Bengal Police home page. This home page aims at maximum public interface along with being highly informative.

On assumption of charge as Director General of Police, West Bengal, I convey my best wishes and warm greetings to the people of West Bengal and to all the members of West Bengal Police and their families.

The challenges of modern policing in the new age need both professional response and humane orientation. The citizens remain the main focus of our policing and service delivery. Police-public interface will be made more effective by making the police accessible to the citizens and responsive to their grievances. I assure that every member of West Bengal Police force will give his/her best to provide an atmosphere of safety and security in the State.

Also, we ourselves should take pride in our profession and uphold the dignity of the uniform. We are the first responders to any calamity that befalls either the individual or the society be it geographical, societal or inter personal. This is a great responsibility that we have to shoulder with extreme sensitivity to the rule of law, human rights of the individual and the dignity of those who are in need of our help.

I am quite sure that with the cooperation of my officers and men and continuous interaction and support from the society, the West Bengal Police would be soon setting new benchmarks of excellence in professional standards.

Jai Hind.
